3. Data Migration and Account Set-up

LGL has made it as easy as possible to import your data from spreadsheets, via the Flex Importer tool that is part of your Little Green Light account.

For an overview about LGL's data migration process, see How to Migrate Your Data into LGL.

When you're ready to dig a little deeper into the data migration process, review these three help articles:

- Using the Flex Importer
An overview of the Flex Importer and a short video
- Data Dictionary
An essential guide to the list of fields in every LGL account
- Compare your import file to a sample version
A set of example import files

The key step is to get your data into properly formatted spreadsheets. And if you're using Member Essentials, be sure to get the integration set-up between your Member Essentials account and your LGL account.

If you're coming from Digital Cheetah

- Digital Cheetah can generate an export of your member data.
 - i. Request an export through your Digital Cheetah Member Management system > Help Center > submit a request.

If you're already using Member Essentials

- AJLI can generate an export of your member data.
 - i. Request an export by contacting Member Essentials support at MemberEssentials@ajli.org.
- Request that the integration is turned on between Member Essentials and your LGL account, so that new updates will flow automatically. Put in your request by contacting Member Essentials support at MemberEssentials@ajli.org.
